*We . . . the Senior Class of Henderson Institute
Present
The 1960 Panther*

Foreword

Here is your book . . . the book which you, through your cooperation and participation, have helped to coalesce.

We have traveled around the world in our efforts to compile this book. Each page unfolds an unforgettable collection of memories, ones which we hope you will cherish always.

Courage and perseverance have been our guiding light by which we've overcome many difficulties. Through our desires, we saw the necessity. To the necessity, we employed our efforts. From the realm of efforts, we sought hope. Through hope, we found inspiration . . . the inspiration which together with the many hours we've sacrificed enabled us to present this book to you.

Oh H and I we're loyal
To all thy precepts true Glad moments have we cherished
We owe our gratitude
To thee we raise our voices
In triumph far and nigh

Dedication

We pause here a moment to pay tribute to those who are as vital a part of this school, this annual, and the core-curriculum as the many faces you will see throughout the book - those who have inspired us, understood our problems, encouraged us when we were disheartened, and sacrificed to give us the many necessities and occasional luxuries that teenagers generally take for granted.

To our beloved parents, we dedicate "The Panther '60," to express the eternal gratitude, love, and respect we hold for you.

Superintendent's Message

W. D. PAYNE
 Superintendent

To the Seniors of 1960:

Your class will make the tenth group of seniors to graduate at Henderson Institute during my term of office. I am happy to have this opportunity to congratulate you on behalf of the Henderson City School Board. All of us rejoice with you on the occasion of your high school graduation, and we shall follow your future careers with keen interest.

We hope that many of you will continue your education. You must prepare yourselves to meet the challenge of a highly competitive economy in our United States. More opportunities will open to you as you increase your knowledge and preparation. Highly skilled people find more doors open to them in business and the professions.

It is my sincere desire for each of you, that you will firmly resolve to develop your talents and abilities to the highest degree possible in your own life.

"Be not content with mediocrity."

Sincerely yours,

W. D. Payne

Principal's Message

Congratulations! In completing the 1959-1960 yearbook, you have arrived at another milestone in your high school career. Your experience should be a boon to you for many years to come.

You have my fondest expectations for a bright future. May your success be profitable and wholesome.

L. E. Spencer

Editor's Message

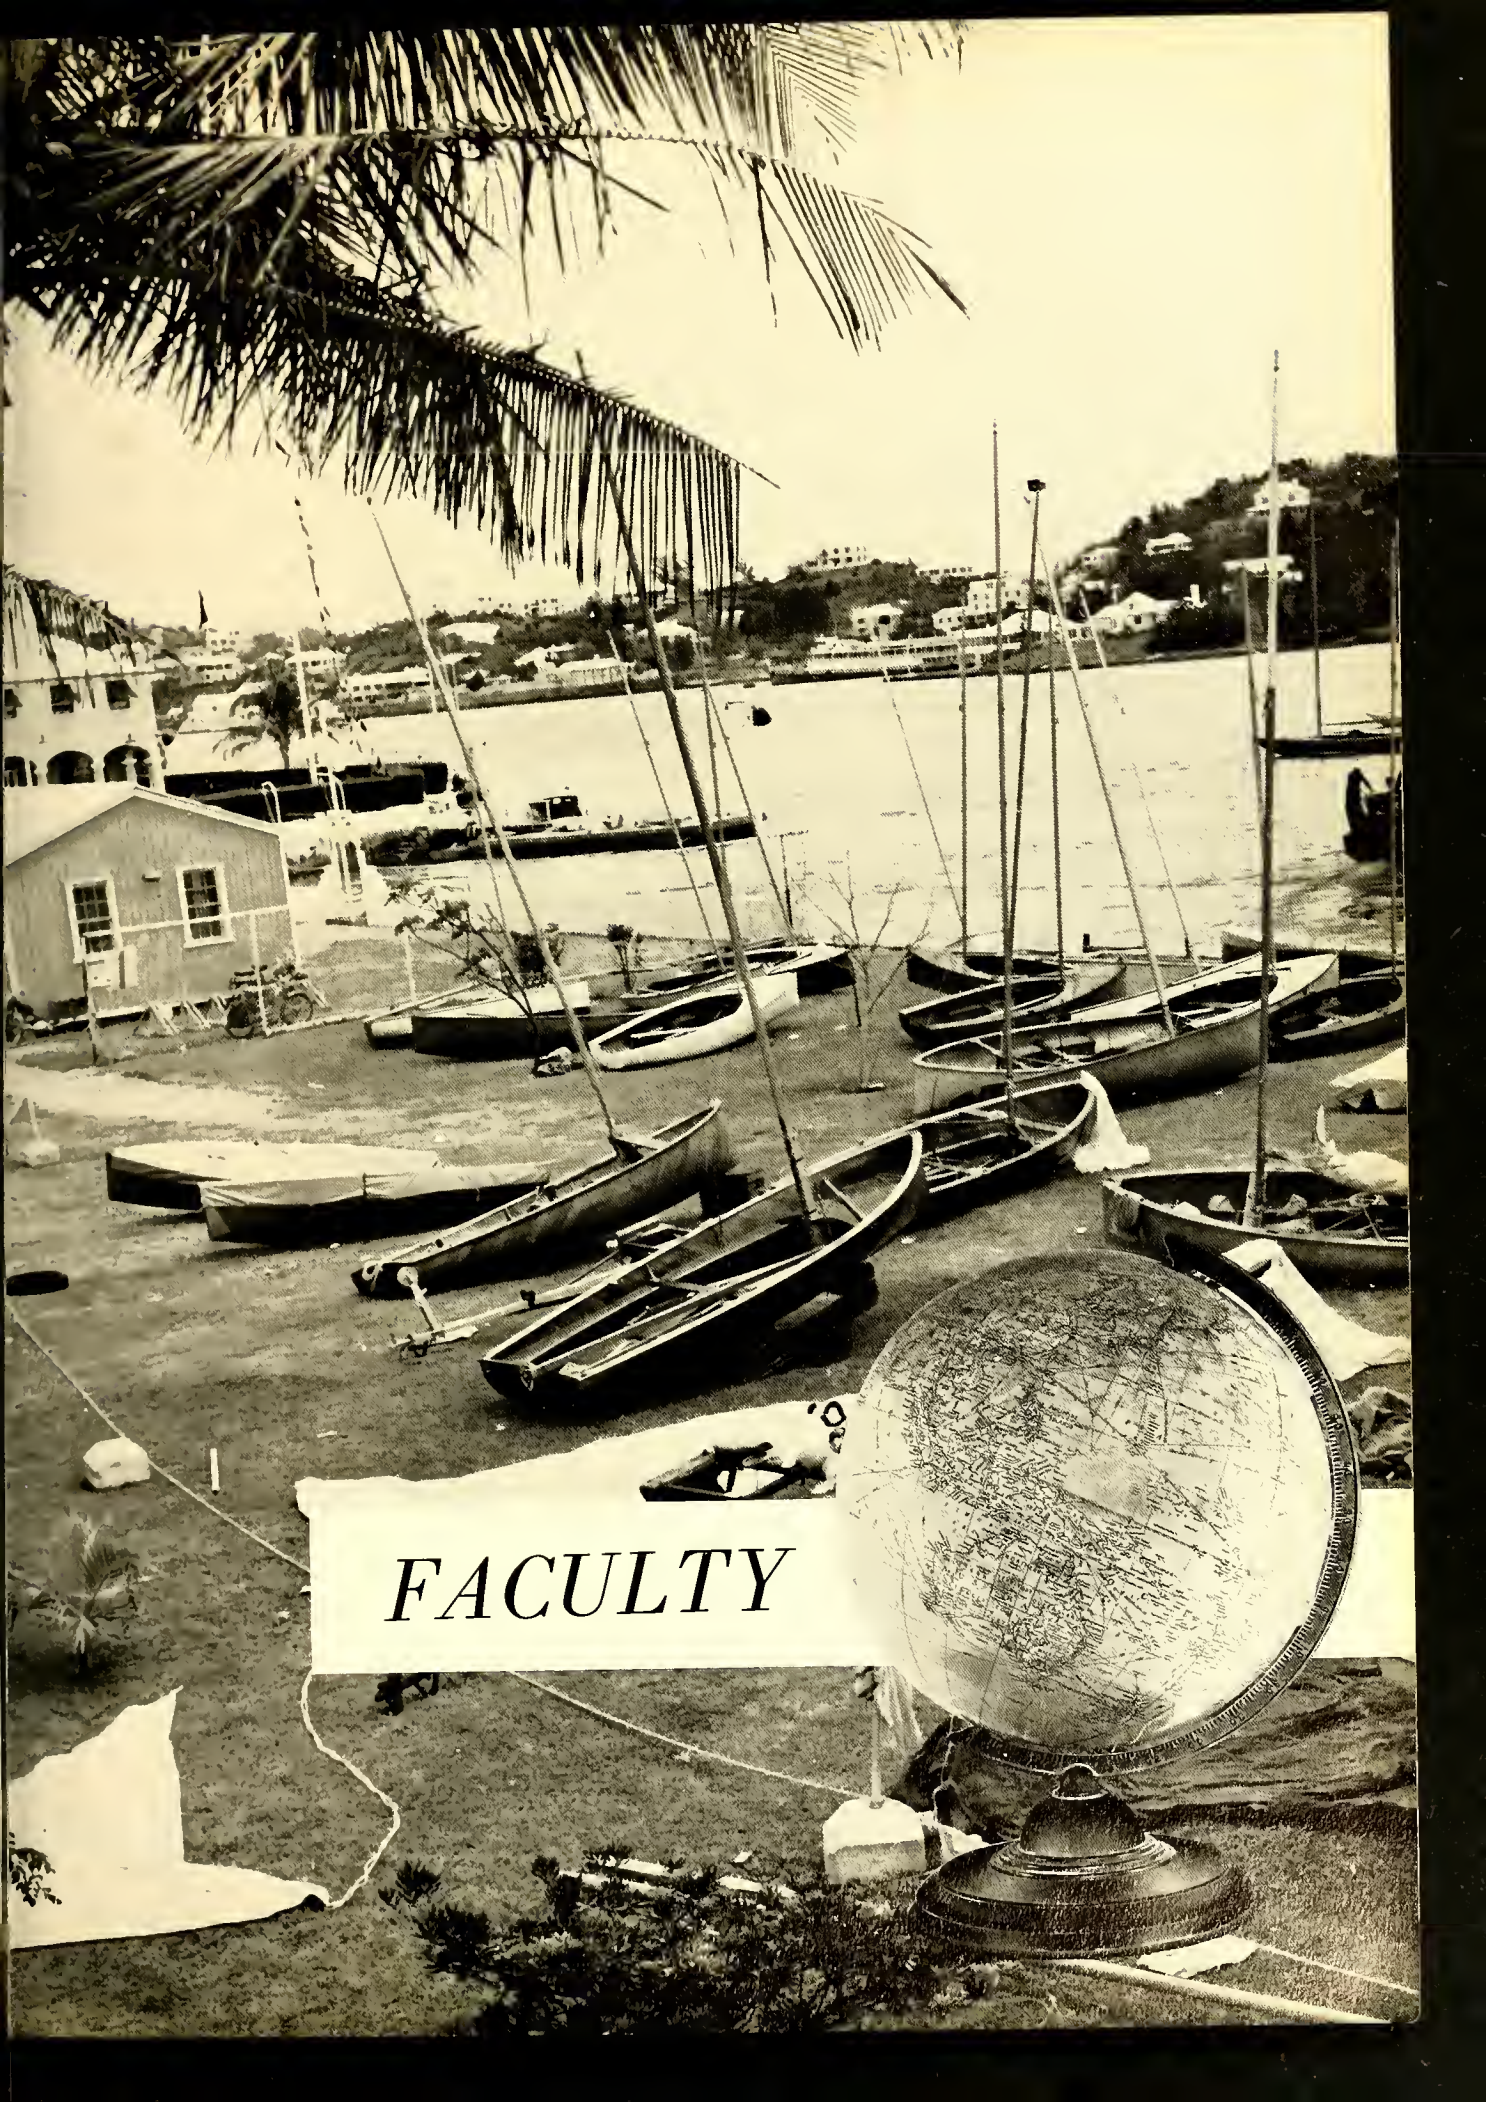

We hope you enjoy traveling around the world in ninety-two pages with us as much as we have enjoyed putting each section of this book together. It is our sincere wish that we keep each little memory of the school year 1959-60 revolving in your minds just as the satellites revolve around the world. We wish to stop here, though just a minute, to check passports of a new journey just beginning and to acknowledge our principal, teachers, parents, and all of our friends who contributed in some way to make this journey possible. We may not make this journey "Around the World In Eighty Days," but somewhere in the not too distant future, our 1960 class members will be able to reunite and discuss our varied experiences which will take us around the world.

A vintage black and white photograph of a tropical beach scene. In the foreground, a globe on a stand is positioned on the right side, partially obscuring the view. The globe shows a map of the world with various geographical features. In the background, a sandy beach stretches across the middle ground, with several people and a striped beach umbrella visible. A large, rugged mountain range dominates the horizon under a clear sky. The top of the image is framed by the dark, silhouetted fronds of palm trees. A white banner with the word "ACTIVITIES" is overlaid on the lower part of the image.
